

I oppose the idea of moving KLOVE radio station to a LPFM. This station has been a big part of my spiritual life. I listen to it in the car always. I am not able to receive this station at work because of the way the building is constructed. I live in a predominately one religion area, of which I am not a member and to be able to listen to this music and be reminded of how important my faith is to me is of the utmost importance. I also leave this station on all of the company vehicles I drive in so others have the benefit of listening to "good" uplifting music. I have listened to a lot of other radio stations when I've had to and none of them are "family oriented". I'm not afraid to let any aged person listen to this music. It's the music everyone should be listening to. I would be very upset to not be able to listen to KLOVE.

Thanks,
